Notwithstanding your wish to cease receiving such promotional and/or marketing information, Cambridge reserves the right to contact you regarding matters relevant to your continued use of the Website and/or any information about you that is held by Cambridge. Cambridge further reserves the right to conduct statistical analyses through the use of data collected through the Website on an anonymous and aggregated basis in order to measure interest in and use of the Website. Cambridge reserves the right to provide its analyses based on such anonymous and aggregated data to third parties.

If you complete and submit an on-line employment application found on the Website, you hereby consent to the disclosure of your completed on-line employment application to: (a) Cambridge personnel; and to (b) the retailer who is a tenant of Les Galeries de Hul and to whom such application is being made.

E-mail

Cambridge will not monitor, edit, or deliberately disclose private communications unless: (i) required to do so by law; (ii) you grant us permission; or (iii) in the good faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) comply with the law; (b) comply with any legal process that is served on Cambridge; or (c) protect and defend the rights or property of Cambridge. However, you acknowledge that: (x) there are security and privacy limitations of the Internet which are beyond the control of Cambridge; (y) the security, integrity and privacy of any and all information and data exchanged between you and Cambridge through the Website cannot be guaranteed; and (z) any such information and data may be viewed or tampered with in transit by a third party.

Cookies

Cookies are small data files containing information to specify unique preferences and to provide personalized content. Cookies collect information such as your browser type, time and length of your visit and any personal information you agree to provide. Most browsers are initially set up to accept cookies but visitors always have the option of disabling cookies and you can reset your browser to refuse all cookies or indicate when a cookie is being sent. However, if you refuse cookies, you may be limited in some areas of the Website.

Your Rights

At your request, Cambridge will: (a) provide reasonable access to your information that is in Cambridge's records; and (b) use reasonable efforts to allow you to update/correct personal information which you state is incorrect to the extent that the information has been maintained by Cambridge and if so, that such updating/correction will not compromise Cambridge's privacy or security interests, subject to the understanding that it may be impossible to completely delete your information without some residual information because of backups.

Effective Date

This Privacy Policy is effective as of January 26, 2001. Cambridge reserves the right to change this Privacy Policy at any time by notifying you of the existence of a new Privacy Policy. Such changes, modifications, additions or deletions shall be effective immediately upon notice thereof, which may be given by means including, but not limited to, posting on the Website, or by any other means by which you obtain notice thereof. Your continued use of the Website after such modifications will constitute your: (a) acknowledgement of the modified Privacy Policy; and (b) agreement to abide and be bound by the modified Privacy Policy.
